

About the School

Inchmarlo, the preparatory school of RBAI, is a non-denominational, all boys school with an excellent reputation for high academic performance, pastoral care and extra-curricular activities. I hope this website will give you some idea of what makes the school so special: the courteous and welcoming boys, the caring staff, supportive parents and its superb facilities, set in 6 acres of playing fields and woodland.

Why not pay us a visit and see for yourself.

Alan Armstrong - Head Master